Higher Level Thinking Across the Curriculum: Education Central

The intent of any curriculum is to develop knowledge and skills to support pupils to have a deep understanding of the area of study. This course will develop practitioners' abilities to inject higher level thinking skills into lessons for all learners.

Through a series of carefully crafted practical activities, delegates will explore how higher-level thinking skills can be developed. Starting with Fisher's Four Levels of Learning model, delegates will learn how to embed higher order thinking skills across the curriculum, so that learners can engage deeply with ambitious content and are well equipped to be able to build on it in future.

Teachers will leave:

- Having improved questioning techniques to probe and support learning
- Clear about a range of techniques they can put into practice in their next lesson
- With a framework to support school-based discussion on the use of questioning to promote deeper learning

Date: Wednesday 6th November 2019

Time: 9.15am - 3.15pm

Venue: BDMAT, 1 Colmore Row, Birmingham, B3 2BJ

Mastering Mathematics in KS1: Education Central

'The principal focus of mathematics teaching in key stage 1 is to ensure that pupils develop confidence and mental fluency with whole numbers, counting and place value.' National Curriculum 2014.

Through this course, previously rated 'outstanding' by 100% of delegates, teachers will be supported to see how the knowledge, skills and understanding required in the programme of study build on prior learning and provide the foundations for future learning. The practical activities within the course will help teachers to ensure that key skills are really mastered, allowing pupils to go on to achieve the highest possible standards at the end of year two and beyond.

Facilitators will share a range of techniques teachers can use to modify common mathematical tasks to ensure mastery and ensure delegates leave:

- equipped to teach for mastery;
- buzzing with ideas;
- confident to promote reasoning in every maths lesson; and
- with a renewed confidence in of how to cater for higher attaining groups of pupils, particularly those expected to reach greater depth.

Middle Leaders – Building Blocks to Leadership

This course is being run in conjunction with the Education Team – please see separate flyer for more information

This is a 4-day leadership package for teachers new to leadership.

Key questions to be answered over the four days:

Day One: What is a middle leader? What skills do I need to do the job well? How do I make a start and what do I need to know?

Day Two: How do I work out where I want to get to? How do I create a vision that inspires? How do I know what is good practice? How do I build my support network?

Day Three: How do I create a strategic plan? How do I achieve outcomes that have impact? How do I manage the demands of external stakeholders? How do I manage difficult people?

Day Four: How to present myself to others? How do I demonstrate the impact of my leadership? How do I grow as a leader?

Supporting Lower Attaining Pupils in KS1: Education Central

Above all else, quality teaching is the key driver in supporting lower attaining pupils. This course will allow participants to think about how they structure and sequence learning to maximise the progress and enthusiasm of all and reduce negative learning behaviours. While specific learning difficulties will not be addressed, the day will focus on the planning and pedagogy that supports those pupils who are slow to develop new skills and often have difficulty in the retention of prior learning.

Through a series of carefully crafted activities, from across the curriculum, delegates will be supported to see how they can directly impact on learning behaviours and outcomes when appropriate scaffolding, resources and lesson design are employed. Delegates will consider how they can provide targeted intervention that really makes a difference and accelerates pupil progress.

Date: Wednesday 22nd January 2020

Time: 9.15am - 3.15pm

Teaching for Mastery - The English Curriculum: Education Central

Opportunities for children to explore connections that can be made between reading and writing in clear and purposeful sequences of lessons are essential to allow children to master their understanding of English within the programmes of study.

This course will enable delegates to reflect deeply on their current approach to the teaching of English, considering text selection and a wide range of activities to engage all pupils. Sophisticated strategies to challenge pupils when reading and writing will be shared. The session will support delegates to utilise these strategies to promote both the expected standard and greater depth within their learning sequences. This year the course will also feature feedback from previous delegates and the impact the ideas have had on their classrooms.

Delegates will leave:

- having reviewed and reflected on learning sequences that promote mastery of English for all;
- with a toolkit of strategies to challenge more able readers and writers;
- motivated to plan sequences of English lessons based on the pedagogy shared during the session; and
- clearly understanding the scope of opportunities available to promote writing at greater depth across the curriculum.

BDMAT Staff Forum: Christopher Mansell

BDMAT has a great deal of contact with its senior leaders and many of its teachers but not with all groups of staff. In order to ensure that BDMAT is hearing the voices of all its staff we have formed a staff forum that will meet once a term. The forum group comprises two staff representatives from each school. These representatives are not leaders at their schools or union representatives, as they will be consulted through different mechanisms. Travel expenses to and from Colmore Row will be paid by BDMAT centrally and we will hold the sessions in work time. Please claim your expenses through your own school initially (via payroll) and your school will invoice the central office, thank you.
